DOCTOR WHO

'APPALLING DISASTER IN DUNDEE!
TAY BRIDGE WRECKED!
TRAIN THROWN INTO THE RIVER!
MANY PASSENGERS DROWNED!'

'A panic of excitement spread through Dundee this morning when the population learned the intelligence that a great part of the Tay Bridge had been blown down on Sunday evening...'

'...and that a train with its living freight of passengers, supposed to be about 100 in number, had been carried away with the fallen structure...'

'...and that every soul had perished.'
